What's new in Bowlbo: The Quest For Bing Bing:

3 There are six DLC characters in this set, three from Sonic series: Shadow: Shadow had his own games. Sonic hasn't experienced Shadow at all, however In Shadow's Master Emerald reveals that he is the biological grandson of Tails.[5] Shadow Wounds: With 3 Master Emeralds, 2 Master Balls[5] and one Shadow Dagger. Shadow can know the SuspenShot, which seild Heavy damage, while being able to deflect the slow sonic shock with Steel Tail which reduces Sonic's Speed by 30%.[2] This ability comes with a short stun, which can be interrupted by Sonic's fastest dash or by deflecting any Sonic attack. Shadow uses Pearl Cheese as a power-up. Shadow requires a hard drive, but one can be downloaded at his shop for 300 Points.[6] Background Shadow is the 16 year old grandson of Tails, and is a graduate of Art College. He is also separated from his family, and lives with his Grandfather. Prior to Shadow doing magic and becoming a Shadow, he had not played Sonic the Hedgehog.[5] Along with Metal Sonic, Shadow was the one of only two characters from the series to be shown physically at E3.[7] This was mainly due to Metal Sonic not being used in the game development until 20 minutes before the event, so the remaining characters had not been designed yet; thus forming a unique look and giving design trials to Shadow.[8] Shadow has a PhD in Magic Arts, and creates his own unique spells, combining different elements in a weird way, such as Fire + Light + Ice to form Brawn. His spells are also what lets him control the Master Emeralds, and makes him the only character besides Master Emerald who can control them. He is very interested in sorcery and also in the "Strange World". Being a Shadow, he has very nocturnal features. He sports a V-shaped scar on his forehead, which was the mark that he got after Sonic The Hedgehog captured him,[9] and is named Shadow the Hedgehog. On the Transistor -Shadow's world
